NYPD foils bomb plot at Fed Reserve

The NYPD foiled a potentially deadly plot to blow up the Federal Reserve Bank. Quazi Mohammad Rezwanul Ahsan Nafis, 21, a Bangladeshi national, was arrested on Oct. 17 after investigators said he parked a van containing what he believed to be a 1,000-pound bomb outside the Federal Reserve Bank. Nafis is accused of conspiring to detonate the bomb from a hotel. METRO/CG

Cop charged in cannibal plot

An NYPD cop was charged in a twisted plot to cook and eat women he kidnapped in October. Gilberto Valle, 28, is accused of having graphic online conversations detailing his plans to abduct women and cook them while still alive. Investigators said Valle, of Queens, kept a file of photos and addresses for at least 100 women, some of whom he had recorded surveillance. Valle pleaded not guilty. METRO/CG

Top New York news stories

New York City experienced an array of events this year — from a weather catastrophe to shocking criminal allegations. Read on for 2012's top stories.

Taking aim at sugary drinks

Mayor Michael Bloomberg's so-called soda ban shook things up on both sides of the aisle when it was overwhelming approved by the Board of Health on Sept. 13. The decision means New Yorkers will be limited to sugary drinks in 16-ounce containers or less in restaurants, bodegas, food carts and theaters. Critics blasted the plan as yet another infringement on personal liberties by Bloomberg's "nanny state." But health advocates herald the ban as a key weapon in the fight against obesity. New Yorkers will feel the effects in the new year, when the ban goes into effect in 2013.

Two children murdered uptown

Just hours after news of the so-called cannibal cop broke, the city was shocked again when two children were brutally murdered in their own home uptown. Six-year-old Lucia Krim and 2-year-old Leo Krim were fatally stabbed in their family's Upper West Side apartment. Their nanny,

Yoselyn Ortega, was discovered in the same room with self-inflicted stab wounds, police said. The children's mother, Marina Krim, came home to the horrific scene with another one of her children. Ortega, 50, was taken to the hospital, where she remained for weeks. She was charged with the murders of the children and pleaded not guilty from her hospital bed on Nov. 27.

Man opens fire, kills one near ESB

Terror struck outside the Empire State Building when a disgruntled former worker opened fired on the morning of Aug. 23. Jeffrey Johnson had lost his job at Hazan Imports, located within the building, in the past year. He encountered former co-worker Steven Ercolino outside the building, shooting him in the head at close range, killing him. Johnson turned the gun on police when they confronted him, and officers shot and killed him. Nine other people were injured in the crossfire.

Hurricane slams into five boroughs

New York is still feeling the effects of Hurricane Sandy, which claimed 43 lives in the five boroughs. The superstorm blew ashore on Oct. 29, bringing death and destruction with it. Hundreds of thousands of homes were left without power. Subway service was snarled for

Etan Patz cold case reopened

A 33-year-old cold case re-emerged in the headlines when a suspect was charged in the murder of 6-year-old Etan Patz. Pedro Hernandez, 51, reportedly confessed to police that he lured Patz into a SoHo basement on May 25, 1979, by offering him a soda. Hernandez, a bodega clerk, said he strangled the boy before wrapping his body in plastic wrap and putting it in the trash.

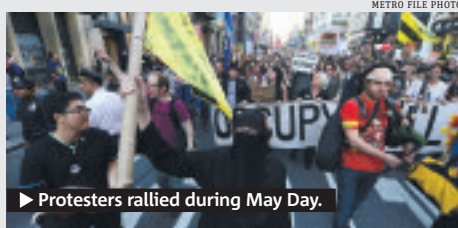

He eventually moved to New Jersey, where he reportedly told family members multiple times over the years that he had "done a bad thing and killed a child in New York." Hernandez's attorney insists his confession should not stand because his client suffers from schizophrenia and hallucinations.

months and the MTA estimates it will take $4.75 billion to fully restore the subway to the state it was in before Sandy ravaged the tunnels and flooded stations. The immediate aftermath of the storm prompted Mayor Michael Bloomberg to cancel the much-anticipated New York City Marathon.

Bronx teen shot, killed by officer

A Bronx teenager was followed into his home on Feb. 2 and shot by an NYPD officer in his bathroom. Ramarley Graham, who was unarmed, was reportedly trying to flush marijuana down the toilet. He died from a single gunshot. Officer Richard Haste pleaded not guilty in June to manslaughter in the death of the 18-year-old. Haste was in an undercover narcotics unit, and officers reportedly thought Graham had a gun. Graham's death sparked outrage in the community from those who say minorities are unfairly targeted.

OWS revamped

Occupy Wall Street, between periods of hibernation, made several comeback-style splashes, including a May Day protest that turned out thousands of supporters. During a full day of pickets and marches, 86 people were arrested. On the movement's Sept. 17 anniversary, activists once again filled the streets, this time with 181 of them ending up in cuffs. The movement re-emerged in November with its Occupy Sandy campaign, organizing supplies and sending volunteers to NYC's hardest hit areas by Hurricane Sandy.

JANUVIA works to lower blood sugar in 2 ways. Talk to your doctor about JANUVIA today.

- JANUVIA is a once-daily prescription pill that helps your body increase the insulin made in your pancreas and decrease the sugar made in your liver.
- Along with diet and exercise, JANUVIA helps lower blood sugar levels in adults with type 2 diabetes.
- By itself, JANUVIA is not likely to cause weight gain or low blood sugar (hypoglycemia).

JANUVIA (jah-NEW-vee-ah) should not be used in patients with type 1 diabetes or with diabetic ketoacidosis (increased ketones in the blood or urine). If you have had pancreatitis (inflammation of the pancreas), it is not known if you have a higher chance of getting it while taking JANUVIA.

Selected Risk Information About JANUVIA

Serious side effects can happen in people who take JANUVIA, including pancreatitis, which may be severe and lead to death. Active ingredient: sitagliptin.

The tablet film coating contains the following inactive ingredients: polyvinyl alcohol, polyethylene glycol, talc, titanium dioxide, red iron oxide, and yellow iron oxide.

What is type 2 diabetes?

Type 2 diabetes is a condition in which your body does not make enough insulin, and the insulin that your body produces does not work as well as it should. Your body can also make too much sugar. When this happens, sugar (glucose) builds up in the blood. This can lead to serious medical problems.

High blood sugar can be lowered by diet and exercise, and by certain medicines when necessary.

Flour has been restored.

South Street Seaport flourishes with business from local patrons and tourists alike, but that changed when Superstorm Sandy hit. Most businesses suffered extreme flood damage and major losses in inventory. Made Fresh Daily was able to repair their shop and restock on organic dairy products, local farmhouse eggs, non-refined sugars and flour. They're back to baking just in time for the holiday season.

TOP 5 POP CULTURE MOMENTS OF 2012

ALL PHOTOS GETTY IMAGES

► "Whitney Houston's death in February was a tragic event that symbolically set the tone for a year where the old guard in soul and R&B music gave way to a younger generation, as hip-hop kids like Frank Ocean, The Weeknd and Miguel basically reinvented the genre in 2012." PAT HEALY

► "I remember going to a party and it's all anyone could talk about. I mean, we all knew she wasn't doing well, but I guess we didn't realize the extent of her fall from grace until it was too late." DOROTHY ROBINSON

Our votes

► "At the risk of giving this any more ink: Robert Pattinson's hair at least deserves to be cheated on in a proper hotel room." MONICA WEYMOUTH

► "I can't believe the Stewart/Pattinson break up made the list but 'Fifty Shades' didn't. That's bonkers. But maybe it's because we are all still in shock that such badly written erotica could take off like it did." DR

► "I just wanted to say that I think my 2012 approach to the Kardashian family has really worked this year. I vowed at the onset of 2012 to not speak the Kardashian name aloud. And look at how you're not seeing them on quite as many magazine covers in the checkout line. They're not even on this list! Yes, the one that they call Kim is doing whatever she can to keep her flicker of fame alight, hiring Kanye West to pretend like he's into her, but in 2013, if we all agree not to speak the name of that family, I think we can finally make them go away forever." PH

Experts surprised to discover fat burning effect in Raspberry Ketones

(Canoga Park, CA) In recent scientific studies, researchers have found that raspberry ketones affect the metabolism by increasing the release of two hormones, norepinephrine and adiponectin. Norepinephrine causes the body's temperature to rise which burns more fat. Adiponectin has direct control over your metabolism. When there are high levels of adiponectin, the cells are consistently releasing rather than storing fat. Simply put, thinner people have larger amounts while obese people have significantly lower levels.

"It's a miracle fat burner in a bottle" - Dr. Oz

Research and Development

Unfortunately, it takes an extremely large amount of raspberries to produce the required amount of ketones necessary to promote weight loss so the chemists at SimplePure Nutrition went to work. Using only natural, high quality ingredients, they developed a proprietary formula specifically designed to create the perfect metabolic balance ideal for weight loss. At press time their manufacturers were working overtime to meet demand for their free* trial offer.

SimplePure offers Free Bottle

With the exception of TV's Dr. Oz declaring that Raspberry Ketones were the "miracle fat burner in a bottle", the news about this recent discovery has been limited. SimplePure Nutrition is offering a free bottle of Raspberry Ketones so consumers can see the amazing effects for themselves.

Editor's picks

The Word columnist Dorothy Robinson's Top 5

1. Whitney's death
2. "Fifty Shades" phenomenon
3. "Gangnam Style"
4. "Twilight" breakup
5. Katie and Tom divorce

I hate to be so morbid that Whitney's death would be the biggest event of the year but it was just so shocking. Coming in at No. 2, for me, is the "Fifty Shades" book publishing phenomenon. It's not too often that a book comes along that every single woman — from your housekeeper to your grandmother — has read. It was neat to see "Gangnam" overtaking "The Macarena" as the biggest dance craze of the century, and it was also neat to see (in pictures) Kristen Stewart's car-seat dalliance. Finally, Tom and Katie's hardly surprising divorce putters in at No. 5.

TOP 5 FILMS OF 2012

► 'Moonrise Kingdom' tops our staff list of the best movies out this year

Metro votes

- 1 "Moonrise Kingdom"
- 2 "Argo"
- 3 "The Hunger Games"
- 4 "Silver Linings Playbook"
- 5 Tie: "The Avengers" and "21 Jump Street"

► "I'd like to qualify 'Moonrise Kingdom': It's on my list mostly — maybe only — because Bill Murray spends most of it in a bathrobe, drinking wine from the bottle." MONICA WEYMOUTH

► "And I would like to qualify 'Argo' for Ben Affleck's sexy '70s shag haircut. He reminded me of Ramona and Beezus." HEIDI PATALANO

► Kara Hayward and Jared Gilman, as Suzy and Sam, respectively, captured the hearts of the Metro entertainment reporters.

► "I saw 'The Hunger Games' and then went into labor two hours later. Coincidence? Probably. But still, I'm very impressed the filmmakers tried (and mostly succeeded) to make an artful blockbuster from the YA book series unlike the cinematic candy that is 'Twilight.'" DOROTHY

► "Is it weird that half of these picks are about teenagers? Don't take my question as criticism though; one of the movies that I picked — that nobody else probably even thought of — was 'The Perks of Being a Wallflower,' which may be the teen angst-iest of them all. Anyway, are we as a group of individuals regressing, or have years of youth marketing finally caught on and started working on us?" PAT HEALY

► "I'm wearing Uggs and Justin Bieber's hair mist. I fear this list makes perfect sense to me." MW

► "Well, OK we all just wanted some fun this year. Plus, I think that the more serious-minded films that came out this year just seemed sort of dour. In recent years there have been some offerings that just seemed much cooler than 'Lincoln' and 'Zero Dark Thirty.' Those movies don't offer enough to tempt me out to the theater if I can catch 'Magic Mike' on Netflix at home." HP

► "'Skyfall'? Anyone? Am I the only one who thought this was up there with 'Casino Royale' in terms of Bond films (and opportunities to drool at Daniel Craig)? And speaking of drooling, how did 'Magic Mike' not make this list?" MEREDITH ENGEL

► "Easy: Banana hammocks are just WRONG." AMBER RAY

► "Channing Tatum's abs for the Oscar!" MW

Editor's picks

Film critic Heidi Patalano's Top 5

1. "Les Misérables"
2. "Argo"
3. "Moonrise Kingdom"
4. "Seven Psychopaths"
5. "Smashed"

"When it comes to 'Les Misérables' you can believe the hype. Getting to see live performances of that music up-close was an unusually emotional experience. Though I have had nothing to do with his career, I feel proud of Ben Affleck for establishing himself as solid director with 'Argo.' Wes Anderson never disappoints me. And I hope that putting 'Seven Psychopaths' and 'Smashed' on this list will get more people to check out these overlooked gems."

TOP 5 TV SHOWS OF 2012

► “OK, the ‘Mindy’ show is amazing — not because there’s finally a cool Indian chick on TV, which BTW, is major — but because it appeals to real women, the ones who perhaps didn’t get asked to prom but grew up to be badass, hysterical, Celine-bag swinging hotshots. I don’t mind that she flaunts it.” TINA CHADHA

► “I want to steal Mindy’s life and/or be her permanent brunch date. She’s like a Zooey Deschanel that I don’t want to smother a little bit.” MONICA WEYMOUTH

► “I really like ‘The Mindy Project’ — it’s good — but there’s no way it’s the best show on TV. That would be ‘Sherlock’ and ‘Breaking Bad.’

Metro’s Top 5

1. “The Mindy Project”
2. “Parks and Recreation”
3. “The Walking Dead”
4. “Masterpiece: Sherlock”
5. “Louie”

► Mindy Kaling stars in “The Mindy Project.”

► Amy Poehler stars as Leslie Knope on “Parks and Recreation.”

I would kill a man to work on ‘Sherlock.’ I know people say that as hyperbole but I really, really mean it (sorry, random dude). It’s as close to genius as TV gets these days.”

DOROTHY ROBINSON

► “I want to state for the record that against all of my best instincts I welcome the world knowing and loving a man with the so-British-it’s-silly-on-an-almost-Monty-Python-level name of Benedict Cumberbatch!” PAT HEALY

► “Anyone else have a weird crush on Louis CK? Just me? I can’t help it: He hates us all so good.” MW

► “I’ve caught the occasional ‘Louie’ episode and they’ve all left me wondering: ‘... the f— was that?’ in a good way.” MEREDITH ENGEL

► “Angry dudes, obviously, make the best TV — from a divorced doc (“Mindy”) to a zombie-fighting lawman (“The Walking Dead”) to an anti-government government employee (“Parks and Rec,” though give Ron Swanson his sax and all is right with the world.)” AMBER RAY

► “If I’m being honest, I mostly watch “The Walking Dead” because I know — I know — that Andrew Lincoln will drop the zombie-slaying act any day now and declare his undying love for Keira Knightley with cue cards. Wait for it.” MW

Editor’s picks

TV Editor Amber Ray’s Top 5

1. “Masterpiece: Sherlock”
2. “Louie”
3. “Parks and Recreation”
4. “Breaking Bad”
5. “Homeland”

Sherlock Holmes has been done dozens of times before. And yet the detective, in Benedict Cumberbatch’s guise, becomes this incredibly exotic, infuriatingly distant being to whom we’re nonetheless drawn because of his genius and unyielding confidence. Well, and his impeccably tailored sense of style.

Or maybe I’m just a sucker for tortured mad men with gunmetal eyes.

Then there is the writing on “Sherlock.” The ending of “The Reichenbach Fall” and Sherlock’s showdown with Moriarty (Andrew Scott) was so, so good, I can’t believe we might have to wait until 2014 to see the resolution of the Season 2 cliffhanger.

Fought for freedom then. Wants his independence now.

TOP 5 IN MUSIC OF 2012

► A few artists we greeted by saying, 'Hey, I just met you!' ► Many of us learned that 'Somebody That I Used to Know' was not by somebody that we used to know

► "I'll start by criticizing myself (and roping you all in with it, so it might touch a nerve). How did we all leave 'We Are Young' by Fun. off this list? Is it because we're all too old to sing that song out loud, because we know it's just not true? It can't be! We all love movies about teenagers (see page 16). Is it the annoying way that they punctuate their name? Or is that opening of the song just too schlocky to make it all worth the amazing chorus? Also, here's where I'm a little bit of a jerk: That Gotye song officially started getting airplay last year."

PAT HEALY, MUSIC EDITOR

► "For me, the problem with Fun. is 'My friends are in the bathroom, getting higher than the Empire State.' This line ruined friends, getting high and New York for me. FOR SHAME, Fun.!"

MONICA WEYMOUTH

► Frank Ocean made many best-of lists this year, and he is the reason that 2012 may be remembered as the year that hip-hop souled out.

Metro votes

1. Frank Ocean, "channel ORANGE"
2. TIE: Father John Misty, "Fear Fun"; PSY, "Gangnam Style"*
3. Carly Rae Jepsen, "Call Me Maybe"
4. Gotye, "Somebody That I Used to Know"
5. TIE: Rihanna, "Diamonds"; Ke$ha, "Warrior"

*This list includes albums + singles.

count it!" MW

► "What about Kanye this year? Did anybody vote for 'Cruel Summer'?" PH

► "I say this every single year, and I hate change so I'll say it again: I have never heard anything by Kanye West that I didn't want to turn off immediately. Who's old and grumpy? This girl — this girl right here." MW

► "Oh man, Monica, give 'Mercy' a chance! There's so much going on in this track. I love how it flawlessly switches between winding dancehall to some gritty Southern rap all while maintaining a cool, dark undertone and then suddenly taking a left turn to an electronic dance party. Yup, you have to bring ALL your moves to the floor. Adding to the awesomeness is the all-black ninja-Bedouin looks everyone sports in the stylized video." TINA CHADHA

► "Tina, I appreciate you thinking that I'm anywhere near this cool." MW

► "I'm really proud of our list — I think it's a great compilation of the best of what was playing on most people's iPhones this year. But for me, 2012 was the year of Innovative Leisure. The small L.A.-based label put out fantastic new albums by rhythm and blues throwback Nick Waterhouse and breezy psych rockers the Allah-Las. Both became fixtures on the beachy, blissed-out soundtrack to my summer (which, regrettably, lacked the actual SoCal sand and water)." AR

► "Maybe this supports the argument that I'm already an old fogey, but I had to look up the Rihanna and Ke$ha songs because I hadn't heard them before. Ke$ha is the first to inspire me to call something 'devil music' in an unflattering way." HEIDI PATALANO

► "'Somebody That I Used to Know' stays on the list because it made me think there was this really great Police song from the '80s recently discovered and newly released. I think I just proved your old fogey's theory." AMBER RAY

► "Another bit of food for thought: Would 'Gangnam Style' make the list if there weren't a video? People probably posed the same question about Duran Duran in 1982, and it's strange how this bit of devil's advocacy is still relevant in 2012. But seriously, in an age where music videos aren't shown on TV anymore, it is interesting that a video made such a huge cultural and musical splash." PH

► "I think it would have — hell, I still haven't even seen the 'Gangnam Style' video, but I somehow know the dance. I personally enjoyed Britney trying her hand at it while appearing on 'Ellen.'" MEREDITH ENGEL

► "I think a prerequisite for Best Song of the Year means we can sing along with it. Oh man, I'm such a xenophobe." DOROTHY ROBINSON

► "Heeeeeey sexy lady!" —

Editor's picks

Father John Misty

Music editor Pat Healy's Top 5

1. Father John Misty, "Fear Fun"
2. Michael Kiwanuka, "Home Again"
3. Big Boi, "Vicious Lies and Dangerous Rumors"
4. Frank Ocean, "channel ORANGE"
5. TIE: Bruce Springsteen, "Wrecking Ball" & The Walkmen, "Heaven"

Look at the top lists of any major publication and there are few similarities. I'm surprised more outlets aren't praising the stellar songcraft of Father John Misty and Michael Kiwanuka. Maybe because both are so rooted in sounds of the '60s and '70s. As for my next two entries, Big Boi and Frank Ocean, are doing great things to push their genres forward. Almost every track on the Big Boi album is a collaboration with an indie band. The results are completely original. Frank Ocean is an original too. I've said this before, but it really is like he's on the forefront of bringing a much needed update to R&B. The new school never knew a world where hip-hop didn't exist and that's formed their worldviews in such a unique way.

Authors on their best reads of 2012

Forget the critics — the best book recommendations come from people who write them
So we asked the authors of the books we enjoyed this year for their top picks

Every year we ask the authors we enjoyed covering in Metro for their top reads of the past 365 days. Here is this year's best of the best. ● METRO

Alan Light: R.J. Smith's "The One: The Life and Music of James Brown"

"This was an ambitious, comprehensive and long-overdue biography of a towering figure in music across the globe."

— Alan Light is the author of "The Holy or the Broken: Leonard Cohen, Jeff Buckley, and the Unlikely Ascent of 'Hallelujah.'"

Edmund White: John Irving's "In One Person"

"This is a gripping, completely readable tale fashioned by a straight man's effort to imagine himself into several marginal sexualities. I also loved 'In Search of Klingsor' by Jorge Volpi, about a physicist in 1945 rounding up Hitler's top nuclear scientists. During Sandy I read Willa Cather's 'Song of the Lark' by flashlight."

— Edmund White is the author of "Jack Holmes and His Friend."

John Irving: Edmund White's "Jack Holmes and His Friend"

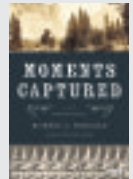

"What I admire most about 'Jack Holmes and His Friend' is the seamlessness of the shifts in point of view and narrative voice. It is a novel about the friendship between a gay man and his straight friend, and it is not only written from each of their points of view; it is written in both the third person and the first person. I find that very hard to do, but Edmund makes it look easy."

— John Irving is the author of "In One Person."

Stephen Davis: Robert J. Seidman's "Moments Captured"

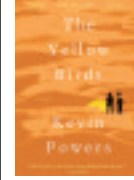

"It's a novel about Eadweard Muybridge, who invented the moving image. He completely changed the way that humanity sees itself. This novel is an evocation of a very pivotal time in the history of the moving image."

— Stephen Davis is the author of "More Room in a Broken Heart: The True Adventures of Carly Simon."

Chris Cleave: Vaddey Ratner's "In the Shadow of the Banyan;" Kevin Powers' "The Yellow Birds"

"I choose Vaddey Ratner's 'In the Shadow of the Banyan' — a beautiful take on the Cambodian genocide — and Kevin Powers' 'The Yellow Birds,' chronicling one soldier's experience in Iraq. This is the novel at its best, taking us far beyond the ordinary and leaving us spooked and exhilarated."

— Chris Cleave is the author of "Gold."

Peter Ames Carlin: Jim Lynch's "Truth Like the Sun"

"Set in the Seattle of 1962 and 2001, Lynch's novel tracks his characters through decades of civic idealism, corruption, death and rebirth. His darkly hilarious portrait of modern journalism is alone worth the price of admission."

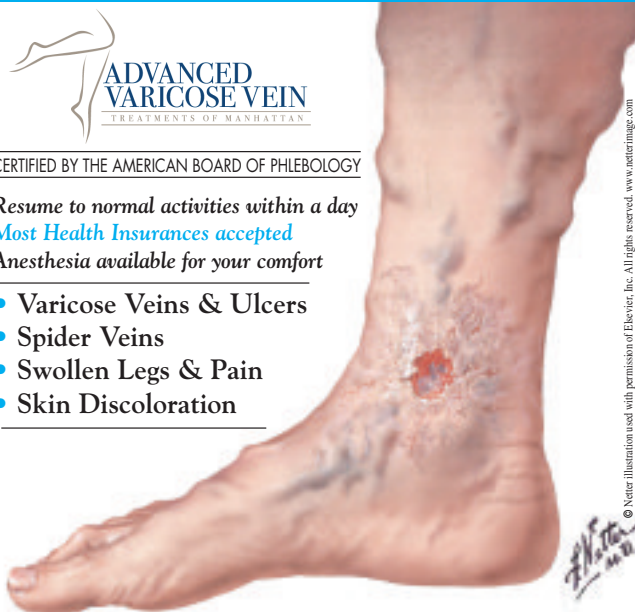

— Peter Ames Carlin is the author of the Bruce Springsteen biography, "Bruce."

Horoscope

♈ Capricorn Dec. 22-Jan. 19. If you fail to take action while you're in an industrious mood, you are likely to put off certain essential tasks. Your indifference is likely to grow in proportion to your procrastination.

♉ Aquarius Jan. 20-Feb. 19. Be exceptionally careful not to be overly possessive with a very close friend or family member. Even if you feel it is for his or her own good, this person will resent the restriction.

♊ Pisces Feb. 20-March 20. It would be best not to seek too many opinions about an important matter that you must decide. Superfluous input merely generates confusion.

♈ Aries March 21-April 19. Assignments you enjoy and are good at will be done rather well and without incident. Conversely, your performance might wane with anything that takes considerable patience.

♉ Taurus April 20-May 20. Even if something might look like a sure bet, you should subdue inclinations to take any speculative risks. Gambles need to be analyzed from every angle, and even that might not tell all.

♊ Gemini May 21-June 20. It's time to put your ear to the grindstone, no matter how difficult the task. You may experience some inertia, especially toward difficult or complex tasks, but you'll overcome it.

♊ Cancer June 21-July 22. It would be best to keep involvements with friends purely fun. Under no circumstances should they be drawn into any of your serious, confidential affairs.

♊ Leo July 23-Aug. 22. Don't use your intimacy with friends to pry inconsequential favors from them. If you do, chances are they might not be responsive when you need them for something really important.

♊ Virgo Aug. 23-Sept. 22. If you get involved in a serious discussion with a friend today, don't give him or her any reason to think you're hiding something. You need to be as open and frank as possible.

♊ Libra Sept. 23-Oct. 23. When it comes to a joint venture, think twice about allowing someone who isn't directly involved to become part of the enterprise. This person's only contribution might be complications.

♊ Scorpio Oct. 24-Nov. 22. Don't give in to inclinations to change something that is over your head or beyond your capabilities. The result of your efforts may end up frustrating you and everybody else.

♊ Sagittarius Nov. 23-Dec. 21. Even if your judgment is usually good, there's a chance you may harbor some unnecessary doubts regarding your thinking. Don't get paralysis from overanalysis.

Keep dollars circulating — but only in US

For well over a year, Democrats and Republican have been saying the United States cannot afford to continue its free-spending ways and the rich, middle-class and/or low-income citizens are going to have to suffer — but they cannot agree who should suffer more. They tell us we are approaching a "fiscal cliff" that could ruin the U.S.

I understand the U.S. economy is in a tough situation and there will have to be some belt-tightening in the future.

However, there appears to be a group excluded from this belt-tightening and suffering in the future and I don't know why.

I have not heard a single politician suggest that since the USA does not have extra funds, then we should stop or significantly be reduce our foreign aid (military or otherwise). We distribute billions of U.S. dollars to countries all over the world, so why can't we use those "extra" funds to help the U.S. citizens?

DAN LEONARD, VIA E-MAIL

Founders' ideas only revolutionary at the time

RE: "FOUNDING FATHERS WANTED ARMED, RESPONSIBLE CITIZENS" (METRO, DEC. 20) The founding fathers wanted an armed citizenry? They also wanted slavery, and didn't want women to vote. We've moved on. DAN HAUBER, VIA E-MAIL

As society evolves, so must laws and the Constitution, as they have in the past. If we were to go by what the founding fathers said, women and other minorities would not be allowed to vote, but you could at least own them in some states. They had the common sense to create a document that could be modified with the times, and they had the intellectual capacity and lack of lobbyists that would have allowed them to revisit those earlier amendments had they lived a few more centuries.

DANIEL JELKE, VIA E-MAIL

Where to have your first meal of 2013

As you emerge on Jan. 1 with smudged liner and a pounding headache, resist the urge to lie under the covers all day. Instead, start 2013 with the quintessential morning-after meal: the hangover brunch. Hit one of these spots to chow down and reminisce about the night before — at least, what you remember of it.

Do Not Postpone Treatment

Varicose veins can start out as a seemingly small problem, but left untreated, can become much more serious. Complications of varicose veins may include ulcers. These may form on the skin near the affected veins, particularly near the ankles. They are caused by fluid build-up in the dysfunctional veins, and can be extremely painful.

Dysfunctional veins can also increase the risk of blood clots. Patients may experience a swelling in the leg, which may indicate a blood clot. Left untreated, these clots can travel through the bloodstream and lodge near the heart or lungs, causing potentially life-threatening health problems.

If you have already decided you'd like to receive vein treatments or would like to get a diagnosis, simply schedule an appointment with USA Vein Clinics today by calling

Cocktail of the week

Banana Disarita

Though we don't wholeheartedly recommend it, if you swear by remedying your New Year's hangover with a little hair of the dog, at least throw a potassium-packed banana in that cocktail to help your body's circulatory system deliver oxygen to the brain.

Ingredients:

- 1 oz. Disaronno
- 1 oz. Tequila blanco
- 1 oz. margarita mix
- ½ fresh banana

Mix all ingredients in a blender with ice and pour into a chilled cocktail glass. Garnish with a banana slice.

Here's how to eat all that panettone

► If you're like us, you've likely got a big hunk of panettone sitting around your house (thanks, Nana!) and don't know how you're going to finish it. Turn it into

TOP 10 STORYLINES

► Bad news dominated much of New York's landscape in 2012 ► Though one team did find magic in February ► But really, could anything top Tebow or Lin?

10. Triple down

We'll have another

Back in June, the sports world had its eyes on tiny Elmont, N.Y., and I'll Have Another as he ran for horse racing's Triple Crown. That is, until it all came to a sudden end on Friday morning before the race. Trainer Doug O'Neill pulled the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner with a leg injury, killing the race's buzz.

9. Broook-lyn

A new borough

Professional sports returned to Brooklyn this fall when the Nets kicked off their season at the Barclays Center. It got off to a false start with the hurricane postponing the Knicks-Nets season opener, but the fans have come out in abundance since. Now they just have to turn their season around and play better basketball.

8. Legend down

No more shagging

The greatest closer of all-time isn't supposed to go out in a heap on the warning track in Kansas City while shagging balls in batting practice. Thankfully, Mariano Rivera won't be retiring off that moment. Rivera missed the rest of 2012 with a torn ACL, but does anyone not expect him back as strong as ever?

7. Devils!!!

Remember the NHL?

David PuTTY's favorite team, the Devils, made an improbable playoff run to the Stanley Cup finals. Yes, it came up short at the hands of the L.A. Kings, but Pete DeBoer's boys — and a decidedly older Martin Brodeur — were impressive. Honorable mention to the Rangers, who had a tremendous regular season.

6. Finally hitless

Mets get their gem

This was the year we can all finally stop asking when the Mets will get a no-hitter. It seemed particularly fitting that Johan Santana, back from major shoulder surgery no less, should be the first to do it in franchise history. Santana, and the Mets, went downhill from there, but for one night everything was right.

5. C.Y. Dickey

Good news, bad news

The good news is R.A. Dickey won the Mets' first Cy Young award since Doc Gooden in 1985. The bad news — he was shipped to Toronto a month later for prospects. There was only one season-long story for the Mets that was enjoyable and it came from a 38-year-old knuckleballer who had been plucked off the scrap heap.

4. Benched

A-Rod rides the pine

Five years ago, Alex Rodriguez hit 54 homers, drove in 156 runs and was rewarded with a new 10-year, $275 million deal. In this year's playoffs, he couldn't even make it into the lineup. A-Rod spent much of the post-season benched — and the rest striking out in big situations. But at least he didn't have to hit eighth, right?

3. Déjà vu

Yes, he is elite

The city did earn one championship in 2012 — thanks to another unlikely run by Eli Manning and the Giants. Just four years after dispatching the 18-0 Patriots, they again got the better of Tom Brady, this time scoring a touchdown on the ground and then batting down Brady's last second Hail Mary attempt.

2. Linsanity reigns

Jeremy spoke all right

If you were going to pick a more Lin-spirational story in 2012 than the ascension of Knicks guard Jeremy Lin you'd be hard-pressed to find one. You might say his season was Lin-tacular, even downright Lin-sane when you think about it.

The puns aren't any less annoying after six months off, are they?

What made the story of Lin so great was that it came out of nowhere. A guy from Harvard, sleeping on his brother's couch, making chump change in the D-league, and now he's the best player in the biggest city in the country? It just doesn't seem possible.

The comet burned out pretty quickly, however. He flamed out thanks to a knee injury, before the Knicks shockingly let him walk to Houston in the offseason.

Good year, bad year

Good year

The stench of Isiah Thomas is gone.

It's been a long time since Jeff van Gundy was ousted, but the Knicks are finally winning again. They got their first playoff victory this spring, but really the story is the incredible performance this season. The team is tops in the East.

Bad year

There's a lot of dysfunction in New York this year, but the Jets take the cake, mainly because they don't even have a way out.

While the Mets are at least building for the future, the Jets have two useless first-round QBs and a owner hellbent on bringing in Mike Vick.

1. Tebow, Tebow, Tebow

There once was a story about a good, Christian kid who was just darned "excited" to come play in the big city.

And then the entire Jets team went to pot. Oops.

Sure, we could've picked the disastrous season that got Mark

Sanchez benched in 2012 (buttfumble!), the insipid nonsense regularly spouted by owner Woody Johnson, Bart Scott's occasional media blackout or the completely broken spirit of Rex Ryan by season's end.

But we all know everything Jets-related in 2012 begins and ends with Tim Tebow.

He made many more back pages than pass completions for the Jets, but no one can say they didn't see this epic disaster coming from a mile away. Well, except for the Jets anyway.

● MARK OSBORNE

► It was a simpler time when Tebow was introduced to the adoring masses.
